Forty police staff set to face the axe

AROUND 40 police employees will be made redundant in the new year as the force struggle to save £19 million.

This week letters have been sent to about 80 members of staff at Bedfordshire Police warning them their jobs are at risk.

Of those, half will lose their positions after the consultation ends in January but overall 120 'non-operational' staff will be affected by the changes.

A spokeswoman for the force, who are having their budget slashed by 20 per cent by the Government, said that people had received the letters saying their jobs are at risk.

She added: "There will be 40 jobs lost but around 120 employ-ees will be directly affected by the changes.

"We will know in February which jobs are going and the consultation is on until January 19."

Luton on Sunday understands that some employees may have to reapply for their jobs.

The spokeswoman said it affected mainly staff at the force's Kempston HQ but that it did apply to some employees at other locations.

Non-operational or 'corporate services directorate' covers staff services directorate covers stain in support and non-frontline roles including HR, media officers and accounting staff. The force have been making a number of changes including reorganisation in policing.

Around two-thirds of the savings they have to make will take place over the next two years, meaning cuts of £6.2m this year and £5.6m in 2012/13.

Some savings have come from increasing collaboration with Hertfordshire and Cambridgeshire forces.

Mentally ill Moran is 'unfit to plead'

BY JULIA SUTTON

FORMER Luton South Labour MP Margaret Moran is too mentally ill to plead to allegations she fiddled her expenses by £80,000, a court

The 56-year-old is alleged to have made several dubious claims including £22,500 to treat dry rot at a home in Southampton, more than 100 miles from her constituency.

Miss Moran, who stood down at last year's General Election, is said to have claimed £4,756 for replacement kitchen units and £14,805 for emergency heating and conservatory repairs as well.

In total, she faces 15 charges of false accounting and six of using a false instrument, which relate to her allegedly submitting forged invoices, dating from between November 2004 and August 2008.

On Thursday at Southwark Crown Court it emerged that Miss Moran had been seen by three psychiatrists in the past two years and reports on her mental state had been passed to Louis Mably, prosecuting, said: "In summary the opinion of the experts is that Margaret Moran, as things stand, is unfit to plead.

"So far as the proceedings are concerned there's a date of April 18, 2012 for a trial of issue, if the court determines Miss Moran is unfit to "The question that arises is therefore when should that question be

He asked the court to delay the decision until closer to the April date on the grounds that Miss Moran's condition may change and for issues raised over her treatment to be addressed.

Jim Sturman QC, defending, urged the court to make an immediate decision but added that representations would be made to the Attorney General to consider drop-ping the case on exceptional grounds.

He said: "These proceedings are a continual threat to her life not just to her liberty and the experts agree that she is unfit to plead. There is no realistic prospect of her being better by April and by putting it off all my lord is going to have to do is order that the experts see her again sometime in February.'

Mr Justice Saunders said he was keen to hear from a psychiatrist directly as to Miss Moran's mental state and added that he wanted to ensure the proceedings were open to the public.

"It is obviously a matter which has considerable press interest. "I very much hope that Miss Moran

Miss Moran, who lives Southampton, is the fifth Labour MP to face prosecution over the expenses scandal and Director of Public Prosecutions Kier Starmer has said she will be the last to stand trial.

Store's booze for serving teens

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

A POST office shop has been stripped of its licence to sell alcohol after repeatedly sell-ing age restricted products to under-18s.

Adrees Latif, who stood as a Liberal Democrat candidate for Caddington in the Central Bedfordshire Council elections earlier this year, runs the Premier Store in Manor Road, Caddington, and had previous-ly been warned 12 times by Trading Standards about selling cigarettes and alcohol to young people. But, following no fewer than four test purchase exercises involving 16 year olds in the space of one month over the summer, staff were found to be repeatedly flouting the law.

Employees sold cigarettes and large amounts of strong alcohol such as vodka and other spirits to the young people who had been selected to make the purchases.

When asked, staff said they had never had any training on selling products to underage youngsters.

Cllr Brian Spurr said: "This sort of behaviour is absolutely deplorable. As a local councillor and as a father and grandfather I feel very strongly that we must take a strong stance against people who seek to profit by selling harmful substances to children.

"Had they drunk all they had bought, they could have been caused serious harm."

A spokesman for Royal Mail said it couldn't confirm whether it would hold an inves-

Director loses post in council reshuffle

A £111,000-a-year council director has been told he'll be out of a job in April due to 'restructuring of senior management'. Steve Heappey (pictured), who also received more than £5,000 in car allowance, was on Friday told he had lost his post with Luton Borough Council as Director of Customer and Corporate Services as it will be combined with the role of Assistant Chief Executive.

The restructuring came after the authority agreed to reduce the number of corporate director level posts from six to five to save money.
It was announced on Friday that Mr

Heappey's work colleague Robin Porter, currently Interim Assistant Chief Executive, will take up the new role of Director of Commercial and Transformation Services on April 1 next year.

Mr Porter, 38, has worked with the council for four years, having previously directed the £200 million Building Schools for the Future programme delivering six new or refurbished secondary schools, over 160 social houses and the new Luton Aquatics Centre.

He said: "I am delighted to have secured this new role. My priority moving forward will be to help the council meet its huge financial challenges while making sure we continue to put the needs of Luton's people first at all times.

"A key project for me during 2012 is the Community Debate, which will seek to get the views of everyone in the town on how we deliver services in the future."

Chief executive Trevor Holden said: "The energy and drive Robin Porter will bring to his new role will help the council to continue delivering the best possible service to our customers.

"This appointment represents only the latest phase of restructuring the council's senior management – a process that will achieve savings in the region of £500,000 over a full vear.

"But this is by no means the end of the process and our aim is to merge children's and adults' services within a year.'

Schools to consult on ages of students

FOUR lower schools are to canvass the views of parents and others on proposals to extend the age range of their pupils.

The consultation by Tithe Farm, Hawthorn Park and Thornhill Lower, all Houghton Regis, has been given the green light by Central Bedfordshire Council in a bid to improve education standards.

These join the consultation by Whitehead School.

Central Beds is advising on the process to make sure they are following legal requirements and their proposals are in line with Government and council guidance. Dates for public meetings are January 11 for Thornhill, January 12 for Hawthorn Park and January 18 for Tithe Farm.

All meetings will take place at the schools from 6pm-7.30pm. The consultation will end in February, with any changes implemented from September

Snowfall prompts road safety fears

A VILLAGER has sounded a warning about an 'accident blackspot' after snowy weather brought drivers to a halt.

Eila Goss has been urging Central Bedfordshire Council to make Dunstable Road, Caddington, safer since her car rolled into a four foot deep ditch last December in wintry conditions similar to which arrived in the county on Friday.

She said she has since seen numerous others go off the road at the same point, where it sharply bends to meet Millfield Lane. Mrs Goss, of Folly Lane, Caddington, said: "I've been in contact with the council to ask if they would put a barrier at that area to stop further accidents.

"However, they've said that all they will do is improve the white lines and replace missing studs on the road. The road is worse in winter, last time it was icy I saw three vehicles in the same ditch in a fortnight."

Cllr Brian Spurr said: "While we are aware of some incidents on Dunstable Road in Caddington, it is not an 'accident blackspot' where we need to take casualty reduction

THE Oueen of shops has spoken. And, without being rude, has not said much.

If most people had been asked what were the cur-rent problems with our High Streets they would have said things like park-ing, recession, high rents and rates and the Internet.

Our major towns in the county suffer these prob-lems. Parking in Bedford is expensive and, on busy days, difficult to find.

There has been a welcome initiative to make it free for some periods over Christmas but for most of the year it adds considerably to the shopping bill and the time taken to do it.

In Luton on street parking is quite expensive, although more reasonable in the Mall.

The recession has never really gone away and looks like coming back with a vengeance. So most people, excluding the present Mrs Lowe, are reining back on their spending, in case it gets worse before it gets better, or just gets worse. High rents and rates is something councils and the Government can do something about but will be loathe to cut revenues as they are already under the financial cosh.

Back to the present Mrs Lowe. She has decided that the Internet is the future and for the last six weeks delivery men have been beating their way to our door with packages and parcels.

The danger for shops is that once consumers get used to it, many will find it an easier way to shop and will prefer sitting in front of their computer to facing crowds and the cold and wet, laden down with shopping.

Personally, as I never know what I am going to buy, I prefer to wander round the shops with a slightly bemused look, as though I am not only unsure what I am doing but whether I should really be doing it.

Here good staff can be the key. Friendly help and advice is much more encouraging than the bored, indifferent look I sometimes find staring back at me. But there is a danger that should the economy ever pick up the trade will still not return to the High Streets.

It is not necessarily a problem for the retailers, as they are still selling the stuff but in a different, and quite possibly, more cost-effective manner.

It is more to do with the look and feel of town cen-

One bright idea from Mary Portas concerns bringing markets back into Generally, though, it already happens around here and we have seen Christmas markets in Bedford over the last weekend.

There is a permanent daily market in the Mall in Luton and a weekly market each Thursday in Marsh Farm.
One problem with markets is quality. Some are good but some are not and few are up to the standard of our Continental neighbours. Still it is worth building on and markets can definitely freshen up the town centre shopping experience.

One thing I have been moaning about in Bedford is that the town centre becomes a forbidding wasteland as soon as the sun sets.

Not even vampires visit, although the occasional hooded skate boarder drifts by. Shopping in the evening can be fun, let alone having a drink or bite to eat. A bit of vision is

And Ms Portas is also keen to get the communi-ties involved in their town centres and High Streets. I agree with this but what are councils and councillors supposed to be if not the representatives of their communities?

There is definitely a disconnect between the electors and elected at local level.

Perhaps there should be working parties set up with councillors and members of the public who are interested. Or even use the proposed urban parish councils.

But things have to happen or the only shops left will be talking shops.

The danger for shops is that once consumers get used to it, many will find it an easier way to shop and will prefer sitting in front of their computer to facing crowds and the cold and wet, laden down with shopping

Chef Steve misses out on MasterChef's top title

top three in the final of this year's MasterChef: The Professionals.

The talented sous-chef attended Harlington Upper School before going on to study at Barnfield. He then went on to develop his skills working at Flitwick Manor and Woodland Manor Hotel in Clapham.

Following his success on the popular BBC programme, Mr Barringer now plans to move back to Bedfordshire after work-ing at Lewtrenchard Manor in Devon for the past three years

He said: "Being a part of the show was amazing, I was pretty nervous but it was such an achievement and a great place to showcase my ability in front of millions of people.

"The final was pretty tense, it's the worst feeling ever not knowing if you're going out because everyone wants to win it.'

Guilty cop 'abused' her police position

editor@lutononsunday.co.u

A POLICEWOMAN who looked up confidential information about an investigation into her boyfriend's close pal has been convicted of misconduct.

Hannah Quince (right), 29, used computerised search systems inside Luton Police Station to try to find out what her colleagues had on the man.

Quince, who has since resigned from Bedfordshire Police, carried out the searches just hours before the man, Ben Sturge, was due to be arrested and interviewed by officers from the guns and gangs unit.

She then passed on the information to him through her boyfriend, Christopher Shri. On Tuesday a jury at St Albans Crown Court found Quince, from Bedford, Shri, 30, and Sturge, 30, guilty of conspiracy to commit an act of misconduct in a public office.

They were all bailed by Judge Andrew Bright QC and will return for sentencing in the New Year. Beverley Cripps, prosecuting, said that last November Quince was based in Luton and dealt with sex workers in the town.

Shri and Sturge were longtime friends

In November of last year Bedfordshire Police's guns and gangs unit were seeking to arrest Sturge for an alleged offence of conspiracy to possess a firearm. Miss Cripps said: "Hanna Quince abused her position as a police officer to interrogate and look up police intelligence systems on behalf of Ben Sturge."

She said the request to do it had come from Shri who had then passed the information to his

On the morning of November 24 last year police went to arrest

Sturge at his home in The Risings in Bedford. The following day, having been off sick the day before, Quince went into work.

She sent her boyfriend a text message which read 'Hopefully be able to update you about 6pm'.

That evening at Luton Police Station, Quince used a number of police search systems to find out what her colleagues in the guns and gangs unit had on Sturge.

The jury were told that one search system she didn't use was the Police National Computer because she knew it was 'heavily audited' and her enquiries might be spotted.

Miss Cripps said the officer also used the name of a colleague from the guns and gangs unit to trawl for information.

At one point Quince was searching through a computerised search system dealing especially with forensic matters when she came across what she thought was an important piece of information regarding Sturge.

Miss Cripps said 'it showed her some sort of forensic link between Mr Sturge and the guns and gangs unit' and she said phone records again showed the officer had broken off to call her boyfriend.

Giving evidence Quince said she went on to a police computerised search system in a Luton station to look for the information because she was 'curious', but she denied passing it on.

Family treasures stolen in raid

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.u

ITEMS of precious jewellery which are more than 100 years old were stolen in a burglary.

Detectives are asking the public, jewellers and antique dealers for help in finding the gems which have been passed down through generations of the victim's family.

The burglary took place at a property in Half Moon Lane, Dunstable, on Monday December 5 at around 2.45pm.

Three burglars forced their way into house by forcing open the rear kitchen door with a screwdriver.

The raiders then carried out a messy search of the property, turning out the contents of drawers and cupboards, before taking a black Advent laptop computer and a large amount of jewellery.

As the thieves made their exit from the house, the homeowner returned and tried to give chase. The three burglars escaped – one on a bike, two on foot – heading along a footpath at the bottom of the Downs.

The jewellery taken was of particular sentimental value to the victim with some of it being more than a century old and having been passed down through generations of her family.

A lot of it was also very distinguished and is described as follows:

- A pair of teardrop style, gold earrings with a diamond in the middle
- Two gold watches ■ A pair of silver earrings with a lilac coloured stone

 Three gold chains
 A pearl necklace

- A gold necklace with a slight dent in the back
- A gold engagement ring
 A thick chained gold necklace with a green jade heart

Detective Constable Mohammed Hussain who is investigating the burglary, said: "The items which were taken are extremely precious to the owner due to their sentimental value and we want to do all that we can to recover and return them as quickly as possible.

"I would like to hear from anyone who may have seen anything suspicious taking place in Half Moon Lane that day.

"I'd also like anyone who has been offered any of the items to get in touch. "Any information, no matter how big or small, could really help us in our enquiries."

If you have information relating to this incident, contact DC Hussain, in confidence, on 01582 473056, the nonemergency number 101.

Dementia con hits hundreds in pocket

MORE than 440 dementia sufferers have been cheated out of more than £370,000 by scammers.

In Luton 240 of those with Alzheimer's have been ripped off by conmen to the tune of £200,000, while the figures for the rest of south Bedfordshire are 201 people and £170.850.

Around one in six with dementia have been hit in the pocket by criminals, who in many cases short-change their victims out of thousands of pounds through financial abuse such as cold calling, scam mail, or mis-selling.

The figures were published this week in a report by Alzheimer's Society, whose East Anglia spokesman, Paul Dunnery, said: "We are merely scratching the surface of the frightening hidden depths of financial

"Too often con artists are dealing another body blow to people who already face high care costs and a society that fails to understand their needs."

Alzheimer's Society is developing a dementia awareness training programme which will be rolled out to organisations such as banks.

The charity is also publishing five top tips for how to plan for the future.

MP hits out over rocketing unemployment

LUTON South MP Gavin Shuker has blasted the Government over rising unemployment figures.

The Labour MP pointed to the fact that long term youth unemployment in the region is up 82 per cent since the start of the year, while 1,290 over-50s have been on benefits for more than six months since January.

He said: "The result is now a soaring welfare bill that is creating an almighty hangover for Britain to deal with.

"The Government is now set to borrow £158 billion more than planned – more than £6,500 for every household in the country.

every household in the country. "This isn't borrowing to support the economy through difficult times, it's a huge new bill for failure."

Putting record straight

SIR - As a former councillor, and now a member of Luton Borough Council's Independent Panel on Remuneration (which reviews and makes recommendations about the level of allowances paid to councillors), please allow me to correct a couple of points made by your correspondent, Mr Cuthbert (Letters, December 11).

First of all, every elected member of the council is entitled to a basic allowance of £7,500 per year, with the members of the ruling executive and certain other elected members with special responsibilities being paid additional allowances.

In addition to these allowances, travel and subsistence expenses incurred in connection with official council duties can be reimbursed.

And secondly, I can confirm (as I know only too well) that councillors' allowances are classed as earned income, and are therefore taxable in the normal way.

Great Christmas effort

SIR - I have just taken my granddaughter to see Santa in the Luton Market and what a great time we had – an old-fashioned grotto which took me back to when my own children were younger.

Santa was jolly, spoke softly to us and we were allowed to take as many photos as we wanted.

Even the helper took one of the whole family for us. I would like to say a big thanks to the market manager Dave Gibbs for an excellent grotto and would recommend it to all the other mums and nannas for a place to visit before Christmas.

It was well worth the money and even Keech Hospice benefit from the profits. Well done to all concerned and see you next year.

Estate becoming awful

SIR - This letter is to bring your attention to an increasing problem over the last year, with gangs of youths on the Farley Hill estate loitering in streets and alleys, abusing and attacking residents (including disabled, children, parents who are collecting their children from local schools, and elderly shoppers going about their business). Other issues that are becoming more noticeable here include cars being parked with all four wheels on the pavement totally blocking pedestrian access for the elderly and disabled. Farley Hill used to be a great

Forward call for Hatters

SIR - I cannot believe Gary Brabin's 'quote' in Luton on Sunday (December 4) about the Robins |Cheltenham Town| being no better than us after the FA Cup exit.

If we were better than them we would have beaten them 4-2 and not the reverse – and they scored a goal with ten men.

May I remind Gary Brabin (pictured) it's nice to see 'attractive' football.

We should be scoring goals and winning games. As I am paying good money to watch non-league football, it would be good if we won 6-4 instead of 1-0

So Mr Brabin, let's play football forward, and not sideways and backwards.

In my opinion we should bring in a tall striker on loan who can head and lay on balls for the front runners (Steve Howard would be ideal.)

Let's get back to basics, otherwise we will be in nonleague football for another season. B Bailey place to live with a wonderful community spirit, but over the last few years there is just more and more street crime being ignored by the police and council, and residents are now growing more wary of the recent intake of newcomers to the area in the last few years. In the last few weeks, there have been several attacks on children and women, with one example being a gang of youths attacking and mugging a young autistic boy in Bolingbroke Road, stealing his bicycle and leaving him badly beaten and covered in blood.

Other residents report being racially abused by gangs of youths while collecting their children from local schools in Whipperley Ring and Northdrift Way, and also while walking home from the shops.

ing home from the shops.
Yet when these attacks are reported to the police, the police seem unwilling to acknowledge the issue, and their response is to shrug and dismiss the problem and tell the victims to 'just walk a different route' thus encouraging the creation of no-go areas and surrendering our streets and estates to these bullying thugs.

'Rat' joined sinking ship

SIR - While we have certainly had our differences with the Coalition Government, the Liberal Party would like to place on the record our support for David Cameron in his use of the UK veto to block the proposed 'Euro-rescue' treaty.

It is our contention that the terms of

It is our contention that the terms of the proposed treaty left him with little option, not least because it required the elected governments of member states to submit their budgets to the unelected European Commission for approval, thus divesting members states of any shred of economic soyereignty that they may have had left. We note that the increasingly hapless Nick Clegg has gone from being 'entirely comfortable' with the use of the veto to being 'bitterly disappointed' almost overnight.

We wonder if there is any demand that the EU could make to which Nick Clegg would not enthusiastically sign up, but then again he still wants the UK to join the Euro – and thereby makes himself the only rat in history who wants to join a sinking ship. It is a pity that he has never expressed 'bitter regret' over student tuition fees or public sector cuts, or any of the other principles upon which he turned his back for a taste of power. Distinguishing illnesses

SIR - The continued assertion of a relatively small but very influential school of researchers, practitioners and government advisers including Dr Esther Crawley, that ME (Myalgic Encephalomyelitis) and CFS (Chronic Fatigue Syndrome) are the same is impeding progress not only for ME sufferers but patients with all other conditions bundled within this indiscriminate diagnostic term, which was created in, and has muddied the waters since 1988 (Holmes et al).

Researchers should be continually refining the sample they are studying and eliminating contaminating variables. In this field, they have been driving in the opposite direction.

driving in the opposite direction.
An analogy may help those not so familiar with experimental design and terminology – Champagne is a sparkling wine that comes only from that region of France.

If you were a wine expert, whether grower, taster, or enthusiastic amateur, you might genuinely contest whether Champagne is the best drink defined by taste, cost or some other criteria. Indeed, Champagne aficionados may concede that yours is both a better drink and value for money but, by definition, it is not Champagne (unless you start moving the goalposts). If you now decide to call it bubbly/Champagne, you can include other bubbly or fizzy drinks, perhaps some that are non-alcoholic, which takes us further away from true

Champagne, eg Champagne/Cava, cola, lemonade, soda pop, fizzy water – perhaps some relax the definition of what is fizzy and that lets even more beverages into the sample.

Now, you do your test(s) and apply your conclusions to Champagne, when there wasn't a single sample in your test cases.

your test cases.
Incidentally, if ME is only one Chronic Fatigue Syndrome represented by CFS/ME what are the others? I have never seen another condition attached obliquely to CFS.

Treating them the same also distorts the statistics. There will obviously be many more people with CFS than ME, so any figures given about ME deduced from CFS, will be unreliable (One in 100 secondary schoolchildren is affected by ME study, December 13, 2011)

This is what CFS/ME researchers are doing and not only preferring it but monopolising it. Fortunately, there are independent

Fortunately, there are independent researchers in all parts of the world who hold this different view, that ME is a discrete illness of physiological origin, which should be considered quite separately from CFS. Research commissioned by NHS Scotland, leads the way in the UK and a paper co-authored by 26 International specialists (Carruthers et al. August 2011), which this research psychologist and veteran ME sufferer believes not only renders obsolete all previous criteria, including the NICE guidelines 2007 that are still being used by the CFS/ME School but may be even further refined in future research (just as in our analogy, we may examine samples only from one geographical area of Champagne, or from particular vineyards).

Unfortunately, they are not getting the same publicity or funding for work which is more likely to bring a better understanding of this illness and perhaps one day, effective treatment.

Things will not change until ME researchers remove the CFS pollution.

Thousands left in the dark after power cut

THOUSANDS of businesses suffered a blackoutwith some waiting four hours for their power to be restored.

Around 2,500 homes and shops in Dunstable Road, Luton, were affected, which the power company said was caused by a fault in an underground cable at 5.10pm on December 9. Khaled Rahman, of Ummah Welfare Trust, in Dunstable Road, said: "Everyone came outside to see what had happened."

A spokesman from UK Power Networks said: "Electricity supplies were restored to the majority within four minutes of the fault. The final 649 customers had their power restored between 8.07pm and 9.28pm."

Town's second for high eviction rate

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

LUTON has the second highest eviction rate in the region.

The town's place in the table was revealed by housing and home-lessness charity Shelter, which analysed the risk of eviction by a landlord or mortgage lender for homes in local authorities across England. Between October 2010 and September 2011, there were a total of 20,230 possession claims made on homes across the region.

Campbell Robb, chief executive of Shelter, said: "As Christmas approaches, this research paints a frightening picture of thousands of families in the East of England living every day with the fear of losing their home hanging over their heads. It's sobering to see that so many communities are blighted by the risk of eviction.

"It's vital that anyone struggling with housing costs seeks help immediately to give them the best chance of keeping their home."

Green light for road olan as cash secured

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

Government announced that £15.85 million of funding has finally been awarded for road improvements after nine years of planning.

 Luton Borough Council welcomed the money which will be used to complete the inner ring road in the town centre.

A bid was submitted to the Department for Transport (DfT) in September for the £24m Luton Town Centre Transport Scheme, which comprises a new link road and improved traffic circulation.

The balance of £8.15m will come from third party contribu-tions and identified savings on land, design and construction

Cllr Roy Davis said: "This is fantastic news.
"The scheme is vital to securing the long-term economic pros-perity and future growth of

PROSPECTS: Colin Chick, Luton Borough Council's Corporate Director for Environment and Regeneration

Luton and the council has been working hard for more than nine years to get to this point.

"Not only will completion of the inner ring road help reduce peak period congestion in and around the town centre but it will also improve access for pedestrians and cyclists and free up land for continued regeneration, creating new jobs and homes to boost the economy in Colin Chick, the council's Corporate Director for Environment and Regeneration, said: "This announcement greatly improves prospects for the delivery of major regeneration projects in Luton, including Power Court, extensions to The Mall, High Town Village and the Station Gateway."

A public inquiry into the scheme is due to be heard in early 2012

Subject to a successful outcome, work on the scheme, which is expected to take 18 months, could then start in 2013 with completion by 2015.

MP gets on board to improve zoo's bus routes

THE subject of improving bus links for Whipsnade Zoo has been discussed in Parliament.

South West Bedfordshire MP Andrew Selous raised the issue on Wednesday in a House of Commons debate on the contribution of zoos to the economy.

Whipsnade is the UK's largest zoo, with 600 acres of land, 2,500 animals and half a million visitors a year.

Mr Selous said: "It is excellent news for our local economy that Whipsnade had the highest number of visitors this year for the last 37 years.
"David Field, the zoo's director, has told me that with better public transport he thinks Whipsnade could attract even more people.

"I hope that all our local bus companies will examine the business opportunities that the zoo offers for them.

"Better bus links would also cut down congestion in Whipsnade, Kensworth and Downs from Dunstable."

Health care service

MORE than 30,000 calls have been made to the NHS 111 number in Luton since it was launched a year ago.

The town was chosen to pilot the free phone service, which is designed to help people access the most appropriate healthcare service for medical problems.

Government announced that the scheme will be rolled out across the country by April 2013, at which point it will replace the NHS Direct number.

The 111 programme is a joint NHS and Department of Health initiative which is part of wide revisions to the urgent care

It was found that patients were confused by what services are available for them and too often were using ones which were not the best to meet their needs.

The new 111 phoneline is manned 365 days a year by a team of fully trained advisers and supported by experienced

Staff are able to make a quick assesment over the phone and give the patient healthcare advice and direct them to the right place as quickly as possible.

People are often unsure what to do or where to go for help, particularly when they have unexpected or urgent healthcare needs but the 111 service assesses the caller's needs and then directs them to the best service

A YEAR after the NHS 111 number was launched for a trial in Luton, it has been announced that it will be rolled out across the country. LAUREN ARCHELL looks at how the service works and speaks to one very satisfied patient.

nurses, emergency dentist or late-opening chemist.

In an emergency, an ambulance will be sent immediately without the need for any further assessment.

Dr Baz Barhey, GP and chairman of the Luton Clinical Commissioning Group, said: "It is important that Luton residents are able to get the right care first time and that they are treated in the most appropriate healthcare setting for their needs.

'People are often unsure what to do or where to go for help, particularly when they have unexpected or urgent healthcare needs but the 111 service assesses the caller's needs and then directs them to the best service for them whilst also reducing unnecessary pressure on A&E and emergency services.

An independent evaluation of calls to the service by the University of Sheffield showed that 85 per cent of people in Luton would call the service again and that 66 per cent per cent were 'very satisfied' with the way the service handled their call.

Nearly a half of people calling for urgent health advice were directed to an appropriate primary care service, such as the out-of-hours service, walk-in centre or GP surgery.

Seven per cent required an ambulance, which the 111 service can do automatically, four per cent were advised to visit A&E and 11 per cent received home care advice which meant they did not need to make a trip to see a healthcare professional.

The service now averages around 100 calls a day, with 60 per cent of those questioned strongly agreeing that the service is a valuable addition to the NHS.

Ron Greenham, of Crowland Road, Luton, called the 111 service for a nose bleed that wouldn't stop.

He said: "I was sitting having a cup of tea with my wife when I needed to blow my nose and it started to bleed profusely.
"My wife was on hand with some kitchen paper and the tele-phone and we dialled 111 where

14G NO 2011

OUR film buff Lucia Hodgson reviews her top ten flicks of the year.

1: Pina 3D

SADLY only treated to a one-off screening in MK, this documentary is well worth seeking out on DVD or iTunes. Wim Wenders, ever reinventing himself, presented this 3D doc on Pina Bausch, the contemporary dance instructor. Bausch passed away during filming, so never got the chance to see this sublime experimental work. It will move you in a way you wouldn't expect, and you'll be mesmerized by the hypnotic style of dance. All documentary talk this year focused on Senna, but truly groundbreaking work can be found in Pina.

2: Tyrannosaur

PADDY Considine steps behind the camera with impressive and touching results. The chance meeting of a violent alcoholic and a battered charity shop worker sparks an unlikely friendship, where both of their lives clash at a time of tragedy. Deeply moving and brave, Considine's debut is mightily impressive.

TRULY one of the most original films from an up and coming British director in years, Ben Wheatley takes his cues from The Wicker Man to create a suburban nightmare. What begins as an intense crime thriller tracking two friends in need of cash, and fast, it very quickly turns into a psychological horror. Gory, shocking, and will leave you in complete disbelief.

4: Snowtown

BASED on the real-life mass-murder in a small town in South Australia. The events unfold in unflinching detail, with Daniel Henshall portraying ringleader John in a terrifying fashion. The film joins a growing list of new and impressive Australian film, including the powerful Animal Kingdom earlier this year.

5: Bridesmaids

FOR a while now, the boys have ruled the roster with The Hangover and its many testosterone-fueled predecessors. But Bridesmaids proved that the girls can give as good as they get, in this outrageously lewd comedy from SNL's Kristen Wiig.

6: True Grit

JEFF Bridges' inebriated Marshal meets his match in the feisty Hailee Steinfeld, who hires him to track down her Father's killers. An exciting cinematic ride.

7: Jane Eyre

CARY Fukunaga blew the dust off of the Bronte tome, creating an ethereal and gripping retelling. Michael Fassbender was as beautiful and intense as the northern landscape.

8: Drive

A HEADY mix of romance, violence, neon lights and a sublime soundtrack made Drive one of the films of late summer.

9: Paranormal Activity 3

YES it's a franchise, a third installment, a brand - but much to everyone's surprise, Paranormal Activity 3 delivered.

10: Melancholia

A POWERFUI portrait of a mentally ill woman and her sister as they face the end of the world, with interesting asides on masculinity and science.

MUSIC

PANTAGRUEL

Luton Library Theatre

SINCE their formation in 2002, Pantagruel have been delighting audiences across Europe with their semi-staged performances Elizabethan and Jacobean music.

The extraordinary voice of Danish soprano Anna Maria Wierød, effortlessly drifts from the purity and sweetness expected of an early music specialist to a gutsy, almost folky rawness

Add the citterns, gitterns, lutes and flutes wielded with masterly virtuosity and wit in cunning medleys devised by the ensemble (which includes Paulina van Laarhoven and Mark Wheeler), and you are set for an experience of the most intimate and seductive kind.

Their programme for Luton – two days before Burns Night – consists of ballads, ayres and dances from 17th century Scotland.

Tickets cost £13 for adults, £7 for disabled or unemployed people and free on the door for under-18s. Book online at www.lutonlibrarytheatre. co.uk or call the box office on 01582

PAUL CARRACK IN CONCERT

The Alban Arena, St Albans

LEGENDARY Sheffield-born singer, songwriter and former frontman of Ace, Squeeze and Mike & The Mechanics is returning to the road.

Paul Carrack will be performing at The Alban Arena following the success of his 2010 album A Different Hat, which Features the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra. With a back catalogue of hits including How Long, Tempted and The Living Years, Paul's marvellously soulful voice is known to millions around the world and he is undoubtedly a key figure in British pop history.

And as his devoted fans know all too well, a Paul Carrack show is always something very special.

Tickets cost £28.50 and can be booked online at www.alban-arena.co.uk, or by calling the box office on 01727 844488

Tale has all the ingredients for a great show

BEAUTY AND THE BEAST

The Gordon Craig Theatre, Stevenage Until January 22

THERE'S a baddie wanting boos, goodies with reels of outrageous gags, a beautiful heroine in a tragic situation . . . but what has happened to the handsome prince?

Will the last petal fall before the day can be saved or will the evil witch get her malevolent way?

Jordan Productions, the team that brought you last year's critically the Seven Dwarfs, once again promises you live music and a fabulous cast for a rip-roaring adventure.

Performance times vary, so call the box office on 01438 363200 to book tickets.

Celebrate Christmas with Stops

After the second World War there was a severe shortage of accommodation in Stopsley, to save both time and money new building materials were used, Many of the houses at that time used sheet metal for the upper construction of the houses, hence the local name for part of Stopsley being know as "Tintown" many of these houses still stand today.

When you visit Stopsley you will find it has a real friendly community spirit about it, many of the shops and businesses have really stood the test of time and you get a real sense of pride as you wander in and out of the various Gordon at Hendersons formerly run by his Father, now called Mace supermarket has been in Stopsley for over 40 years, also a Post Office as well now.

The Hardware Store, owned by AJ and his family has spent the last 28 years serving the community, but a total 33 years in the business,

James Ayres Flooring, formerly Martin Ayres another family run business now run by his son James has been meeting the flooring needs of Luton for over 28 years.

Martin Hunt's personal attention and hairdressing skills have delighted customers at Martin Hunt Hair Design for the past 25 years

Ali from Jay Raj has spent all of his life in the restaurant business, he has been serving the community in Stopsley since 1999 deserving a well earned reputation in Luton.

Fair Deal World Shop sells a treasure trove of wonderful things from around the world, Lynn who runs the store has been in Stopsley for 5 years but you may remember her from High Town where she had a shop there.

Stopsley Surma run by Ahmed and his staff has been serving Indian Takeaways in Stopsley for the last 5 years bringing award winning dishes to Luton.

Coffee Express was a dream of Angie and husband Stu,

Angle decided 6 years ago to give up her IT career and run her own business, you II find her by the Memorial.

If its a car you are after Steve and Graham at Stopsley

Village Cars have over 40 years of experience in the Motor Trade they offer quality service at an affordable price. .

Just Us A new venture for friend's Liz and Kim is a beautiful gift shop offering unique gifts for all the family, and with Christmas around the corner its ideal .

Then last but not least Stopsley has its very own Antiques and interiors shop on Venetia Rd, Stopsley Village Antiques and Interiors, Graham sells a range of interesting furnishings ,known as "shabby Chic" Its well worth a visit, like an Aladdin's cave.

So for that traditional Christmas Feeling take a trip to Stopsley and meet the locals that make Stopsley GREAT!

Every child who comes into foster care is different.

There is no 'typical' child we place. Many have faced extreme difficulties. Some are from minority ethnic populations. Some have a range of special needs or display challenging behaviour. Some are in sibling groups which need to stay together wherever possible. All are looking for safe, caring homes with people like you.

From drivers to café workers to engineers, we help all sorts of people become foster carers, supporting them to transform the lives of the most vulnerable and neglected children and young people.

Fostering myths busted!

With over a quarter of people considering fostering, but almost 60 per cent mistakenly thinking they're not eligible, we want to bust the myths and tackle the many reasons people don't come forward:

- □ I don't think I'm the right age
- I'm male
- I'm gay
- I don't own my own home
- I don't have any children
- I'm single
- I haven't worked with children or young people
- I don't think they recruit carers from my ethnicity
- ▶ I can't afford to give up work
- 24-hour support

Why choose Action for Children?

We value our foster carers very highly. Our friendly team will support you, so you can support young people to grow with hope and confidence. We are an experienced UK children's charity who put children at the centre of everything we do. We offer:

- 24-hour support
- continuous training and development
- careful matching
- regular paid breaks when you need them
- competitive allowances and fees
- support groups and social events

Children and young people in your area need foster homes

Could you give children and young people the care and support they need to thrive? If you can offer a safe and caring home, we'll give you excellent training, competitive fees (up to £420 per week), regular planned breaks and 24-hour support. We want to hear from you!

To find out more, call 0845 200 5162 or visit www.actionforchildren.org.uk/fostering

Do something life changing Foster

as long as it takes

Become a foster carer for:

Keith and Poppy

Keith and Poppy are 11-year-old twins but very much individuals with their own needs and interests.

Keith enjoys Scouts, especially camping, and Poppy has an interest in fashion and street dance. Both have a good network of friends.

The twins have weekly contact with their father and older siblings.

Keith and Poppy need a long term placement with a two-parent family, White/European in origin, where they can be the youngest children in the family.

You will also need to be prepared to continue regular contact with their birth family.

For more information please contact Graham Buddery on 01582 547604.

Become a Foster Carer with Horizon Fostering

All you need is time, energy and a spare room

We offer:

- £350 to £529 weekly allowance for each child
- Ongoing training
- 24/7 advice and support

We need carers for children from 0 to 18 years but particularly carers willing to look after teenagers, and sibling groups of all

If you are already a carer why not transfer to us and benefit from no reduction in allowances for a sibling group, respite and holiday.

Help creenup this Christmas

米

Did you know around one-third of all the food we buy ends up being thrown away?

Top tip: try to make a shopping list and remember to check your cupboards, fridge and freezer before you go shopping.

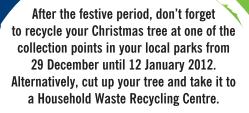

For other tips go to: www.lovefoodhatewaste.com

> From 5 December 2011, your recycling and refuse collections are changing. Look out for your new collection schedule coming through your door, or visit our website at www.luton.gov.uk/recycling

Look out for gifts with packaging that can be reused or recycled.

Top tip: Why not use last year's cards to create your own unique gift tags?

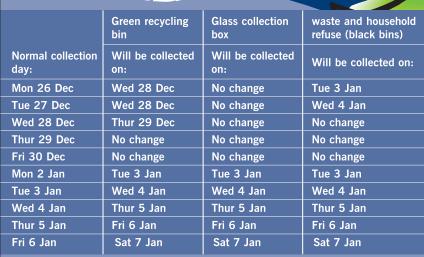

Top tip: use a pot-grown tree which you can replant in the garden and use again next year.

If your recycling bin fills up over Christmas, why not pop down to your Neighbourhood
Recycling Centre or Household Waste Recycling Centres to recycle all your extra packaging?

Top tip: squash fizzy drink bottles and cardboard packaging to create extra space in your recycling bin.

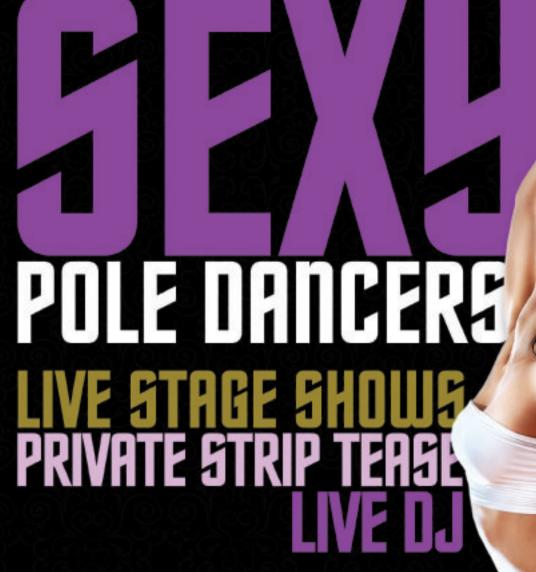

A whole range of jars – from cranberry sauce to mincemeat and baby food – can be recycled. Just use your kerbside collection box or visit your Neighbourhood Recycling Centre.

Garden waste collection will be suspended from Friday 2 December 2011 until week commencing Monday 13 February 2012. During that time please use Household Waste Recycling Centres or home-compost your garden waste.

Luton Borough Council

LOCAL AUTHORITIES (EXECUTIVE ARRANGEMENTS) (ACCESS TO INFORMATION) (ENGLAND) REGULATIONS 2000 NOTICE OF PUBLICATION OF FORWARD PLANS

Under executive arrangements introduced by LUTON BOROUGH COUNCIL a plan will be prepared by the Council each month containing information about "key decisions" to be made by the Council. This plan will be known as a Forward Plan

A "key decision" is defined by Government Regulations as an executive decision which is likely:-

- to result in the Council incurring expenditure which is, or the making of savings which are, significant having regard to the Council's budget for the service or function to which the decision relates; or
- to be significant in terms of its effects on communities living or working in

- to be significant in terms of its effects on communities living or working in an area comprising two or more wards in the Borough.
Each Forward Plan will contain details of the key decisions likely to be made by the Council during the four month period following the publication of the Forward Plan. Each Forward Plan will contain a list of the documents relevant to the key decisions to be made and which are submitted to those responsible for making those decisions. Other documents relevant to the decisions to be made may also be submitted to those responsible for making the decisions. Each Forward Plan will be updated on a monthly basis. EXIT? Matthew Barnes-Homer could be in line for a move away from Kenilworth Road to make room for January signings

Brabin suffering transfer mark-ups

LUTON Town are already window shopping ahead of the January sales but cut price deals are proving hard to come by according to boss Gary Brahin

Hatters managing director Gary Sweet this week announced that funds will be made available for player signings when the transfer window opens up in a fortnight's time, but his employee is already finding the market a frustrating place.

"We have spoken to other clubs and other players," said Brabin, adding: "One of the things I do find amazing is that, all of a sudden, when Luton Town are interested another zero goes on the end.

"That is one of the things which is difficult but I'm not going to put this club in a position where we they are going to be paying over the odds for players. That's not my style. I want a good work ethic, value for money, I want to win football matches and I want to get promoted."

But Brabin will look to offload some of his current squad with the likes of on loan Matthew Barnes-Homer and Will Antwi being two likely candi-

Will Alter being two incry called dates for the chop.

Brabin said: "At the moment, because of what happened early in the season, with the number of injuries we had, we're probably a bit overloaded, body-wise.

"A lot of those players have been out on loan. We are working hard so that we are not going to be overloaded with bodies. We are always looking for quality to bring into the squad and that should never stand still. We are going to be working hard to try and trim the squad because we want a tighter group."

Antwi has attracted interest from Conference rivals Grimsby but the club are yet to discuss anything yet.

Brabin said: "That is something we will have to sit down and discuss. He wants to play football and Grimsby are interested in him. Maybe he can go out and try to help them take some points off our challengers.

"We haven't looked any further than

Will just getting some football.
"We still haven't made our mind up on anyone yet and Will fits into that

Danny at the double slaughter sad Lambs

lauren.archell@lutononsundav.com

AFTER all four of the matches over the festive period were branded 'must wins', Luton Town got off to a successful start with convincing 3-1 win over Tamworth.

The 622 away fans were left travelling home full of Christmas cheer after the Hatters put on the type of spirited performance that had been missing in recent games.

Two goals from Danny Crow, and a third from James Dance saw the Hatters defeat the mid-table Lambs in a comfortable win.

Gary Brabin made seven changes from the side that beat Swindon Supermarine last Saturday in the FA Trophy, and two changes from the last Blue Square Premier game, with Dance and Greg Taylor coming in for Robbie Wilmott and Aaron

Jamie Hand missed the game as his loan period had expired, and the bench was packed with players that would have been welcome in any other side's first team.

Luton started the stronger side with their first opportunity on goal, coming early in the fifth minute.

Dance made a darting run down the right flank, but his near post effort was headed clear by the Lambs defence. Crow managed to chip the return out to the far post, but there was no-one in the box to meet the loose ball.

Town then had a strong penalty appeal for handball turned down on 14 minutes. An unchallenged Jake Howells cross landed in the path of Crow, with his resulting shot seeming to hit the hand of Patrick Kanyuka, but the referee dismissed the Hatters' pleas for a spot kick.

However, Tamworth were down to 10 men just minutes later, when captain Paul Green was shown a straight red card for a fierce challenge on Dan Gleeson. The decision wasn't popular with the Lambs faithful who proceeded to boo the Luton right back for the remainder of the game every time he touched the ball.

Against the run of play the home side managed a shot on goal, Kanyuka heading just over the bar after meeting an inswinging corner from the right.

More Luton chances went begging as a pinpoint cross from Alex Lawless found Taylor, who scuffed his shot wide.
Seconds later Dance managed an attempt on goal but his deflected shot was headed away by Kanyuka. The Hatters continued to pile the pressure on Tamworth and some neat passing released Dance, whose strong strike was parried by keeper

Jonathon Hedge.
A strike from Adam Watkins was then cleared off the line, and another attempt from Dance was tipped over by the goalie. But Luton went ahead in the 38th minute after Janos Kovacs headed a direct ball goalwards and Crow struck with an athletic bicycle kick. The deserved goal was the striker's sixth of the season, and third in as many away

The lead could have been doubled just before the break, as Lawless and Dance linked up to get a ball to Watkins, who blasted his shot over the bar from 10 yards out.

The Hatters came out for the second half all guns blazing for the first time in recent weeks, scoring just six minutes after the restart.

The Lambs defence made a mess of clearing their lines as Dance did well to charge down a clearance in the pouring rain.

The resulting ball fell to Crow, who in confident mood, struck a first time shot cleanly past goalkeeper Hedge.

Town increased their lead further,

as Hatters

Howells swept forward and passed to Dance who took a touch and buried the ball in the back of the net with a sweet looping strike.

Lifted by their performance, the game became a battle of Luton attack versus Tamworth defence with the Hatters looking dangerous every time they were in possession of the ball.

Taylor found the ball and drilled a low shot goalwards that Hedge managed to push away.

Crow had the opportunity to complete his hat-trick on 75 minutes when Keith Keane burst into the box and was brought down by Francino Francis. The referee pointed to the spot immediately.

It was the defender's second yellow card of the game, reducing the home side down to just nine men.

But the penalty was a poor effort from Crow, who blasted the ball to the keeper's left only for Hedge to turn it behind the post.

The resulting corner was little better, with Crow blasting the cross high over the bar.

Scrappy defending from the Hatters allowed sub Danny Mills to score a consolation goal for the home side.

The striker's shot took a deflection off George Pilkington and rolled passed goalkeeper Kevin Pilkington into the back of the net. The goal didn't inspire a late Tamworth comeback however and it was Luton who had the opportunity to score another late into the game.

Substitute Stuart Fleetwood forced Hedge to make yet another good save late with his direct strike.

It ended a comfortable performance that pushed the Hatters into the Blue Square Bet Premier play-off places, and reminded fans of just what this Luton side are capable of.

Twisting my Mellon, man

Brabin admits mate Micky's Fleetwood must slip up for Town to win promotion

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

james.cunliffe@lutononsunday.com

GARY Brabin doesn't expect rival boss Micky Mellon to dump Fleetwood for Preston but he is hoping his friend's side hit the skids in the race for promotion from the Conference.

League One side North End are without a manager after Phil Brown was sacked and the Cod Army chief is one man who has been tipped as his replacement at Deepdale after guiding the non-league side past Wycombe and Yeovil in the FA Cup.

A managerial exit would be a boon for the Hatters who, despite yesterday's 3-1 win at Tamworth, sit eight points behind the Lancashire side in the Blue Square Bet Premier table – and 11 behind leaders Wrexham – but Brabin thinks it's a nonstarter which leaves him hoping the teams at the top start dropping points. "I know Micky really well and, at the

"I know Micky really well and, at the moment, I think he's got more chance of achieving things at Fleetwood than he has at Preston," said Brabin. "Preston are having a bad time. Fleetwood is on his doorstep and they have a wealthy chairman who seems to be backing him.

"He's from that area, is an ex-Blackpool player and they don't really get on too well with Preston.

"We are not going to be hanging all our hopes on that. We are confident that if we start getting the form that we know we are capable of then we are good enough to be up there challenging."

But with an already sizeable points dif-

But with an already sizeable points difference to claw back on Fleetwood and Wrexham, Brabin knows that automatic promotion is out of Luton's hands as things stand.

He said: "Now we are in a situation where we've got to hope some teams lose a bit of form. There is a different pressure on them two now. They've got this points advantage and everyone else is being written off. In a lot of people's eyes it is a two-horse race. "We are disappointed that we are so far
